

Ali, Joyce exchange wedding vows

Jamillah Ali, of Blue Island, and Michael Joyce, of Morgan Park, wed in Naples, Fla., in a ceremony on May 15, before 140 family and friends, including "The Champ" himself, Jamillah's father, Muhammad Ali. Joyce, the son of Mary and Jeremiah Joyce, the former state senator and 19th Ward alderman, and brother of state Rep. Kevin Joyce, is no stranger to boxing. He owns and operates the Celtic Boxing Club, 3020 W. 111th St., and has been active with boxing programs at his alma mater, Leo Catholic High School. Joyce, who is also an attorney, asked Muhammad Ali for his daughter's hand in marriage on a trip to Ireland when the legendary boxer was visiting the hometown of his maternal grandmother. Jamillah, who is also the daughter of Khalilah Camacho-Ali, works at the Illinois secretary of state's office. The wedding was presided over by the Rev. George Clements.
